Time sure does fly. Five months ago I wrote to you about the beginning of The Florida School of Feng Shui's nine month training program. We are now approaching the 6th month of classes with a very talented group of students. It is awesome to watch their dedication. I have many inquiries about a one day class, which we now have. FENG SHUI BOOTCAMP will be held on April 17, 2004 in Dunedin, FL. This is for you if you aren't sure about attending for 9 months, or, if you want to get great ideas for your home or office. Download the class information and registration form at <http://www.corporatecreatives.com/pdf/bootcampregistration.pdf>

On February 10th, we had the official ground breaking ceremony for Florida Atlantic University's Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing. Read more about that special event and the incredible building to come below.

If you are interested in Feng Shui, Ecology, and love California in the summertime, then you'll want to be at the International Feng Shui Conference in San Luis Obispo, CA. Scheduled for August 6-8, 2004, I will be speaking there and look forward to seeing you. Details at <http://www.fengshuiseminars.com/conferences/teachers/main.htm>

So we are off in the new 20 year Chinese cycle. I hope you are enjoying a fruitful beginning and as always, I'll look forward to hearing from you.

Sending you peaceful thoughts,

Carol

Often I refer to Feng Shui as Acupuncture of a building. Both Feng Shui and Acupuncture share a foundation in the Five Element Theory. There is quite an inter-relation between the two practices, and, I have found the book: Between Heaven and Earth, by Korn and Beinfield to be one of my staples in my library. In it you will find lots of information on the Five Element theory in relation to people, personalities and health, in addition to a great introduction to Chinese Medicine. serve their clients. I have personally found over the years that many of my Feng Shui client's lives were in danger due to the homes they lived in or offices they worked in. I am so thankful to have the knowledge I have as a Bau-biologist to radically help change and/or save people's lives. Coming up on April 3 & 4th, is Florida School of Feng Shui's "Bau-biologie and Feng Shui: Creating Healthy Environments" weekend. Helmut Ziehe will be a guest speaker on April 3rd, and will join us for lunch that day. FENG SHUI SUCCESS TIP FOR YOUR BUSINESS

The Flying Star analysis of your space can be quite useful for your business. Specific areas can be located that will bring benefits, and areas to avoid doing business in will also be designated. Some areas are best left for storage, filing, computer or copy rooms, while others should be utilized to grow your business and create prosperity previously unimagined. Very often I have found "troublemakers" were located in areas where the energy was conflicted, and a simple cure created quick changes, even resulting in surprise resignations of those very people! If you want to maximize the use of your space or building, be sure to review the Flying Stars at least once a year. You will find it will place you one step ahead in the world of business,

FEATURED CLIENT OF THE MONTH

^ Top

This month's client has been a year and a half in progress. On February 9th, Students, Staff and Faculty joined together to begin the blessing of the site for Florida Atlantic University's Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing. On February 10th, the official ground breaking was concluded. This building will be a leader in the world of education as it approaches its completion over the next year. Guided by the principals of Feng Shui and Green building design through the U.S. Green Building LEED guidelines, I have been blessed to be a part of the design team. Stay tuned for more excitement as the building progresses. To read about this great project and the wonderful people who are helping to design this building, go to:

Feng Shui Practitioner Program

The Florida School of Feng Shui continues its 2003-2004, Feng Shui Consultant Certificate Program on March 6-7, 2004. Program applications are available on line www.corporatecreatives.com/pdf/registration.pdf and individual weekend attendance is available. The program is exciting, covering a host of Feng Shui and related topics, organic lunches, morning tai chi, and a lovely, Asian environment. Classes are held at The Center for Oriental Medicine in beautiful downtown, Tarpon Springs, FL.

March 6-7 : Chinese Astrology and Feng Shui Applications with Carol Cannon and Darley Davies: The aspects of Chinese Astrology that relate to Feng Shui will be introduced this weekend. Students will learn how to determine their Ming Gua, and learn about the relationship of time and space. An introduction to the ancient I Ching system of divination will also be covered. The weekend will include a commercial site visit with Carol Cannon and "live" Feng Shui consultation. Guest speaker Darley Davies will introduce the Egyptian art of Biogeometry, and demonstrate it in conjunction with the site visit. A registration form can be downloaded at www.corporatecreatives.com/workshops.php

April 3-4 : Bau-biologie and Feng Shui: Creating Healthy Environments with Carol Cannon and Helmut Ziehe. Attendees will learn about the relationship of Bau-biologie to Feng Shui in this weekend program. Bau-biologie is the relationship of the building to human health. This is an important weekend for anyone who lives or works in a building! Guest lecturer Helmut Ziehe, President of the International Institute for Bau-biologie and Ecology will speak about why this topic is so important for us in today's world. A registration form can be downloaded at www.corporatecreatives.com/workshops.php

April 17: : Feng Shui Boot Camp with Carol Cannon: This special one day intensive will focus on what you need to know to make changes in your life. Whether your interest is home or office, you will learn the basic techniques to begin applying Feng Shui to your environment. Attendees will learn the principals of Feng Shui, why they are needed, and how to apply them. A registration form can be downloaded at <http://www.corporatecreatives.com/pdf/bootcampregistration.pdf>
